Executive Director's Message

IN SERVICE: OUR VOLUNTEER COMMUNITY

In the mid 20th century, the Mission was the center of a small rural-like village serving as the “Soul of the City” and home to the world-famous swallows. By the end of the same century, the Mission was known as an international historic landmark. The transition of thriving from a nearly forgotten mission to reknowned landmark is in part due to the contributions of volunteers. Starting with Charles Lummis and his Landmarks Club established in 1895 to save the Mission, a diverse and ecumenical volunteer community has historically served this Mission for the past 100 years.

Native American Basket Weaver Volunteers

We often frame up our volunteers as members of this group or that. Docents, Gardening Angels, Guild members, Board members, Gala Committee, Music Under the Stars Committee, etc. But those are really just affiliations. Our Mission volunteers are first and foremost unique individuals who serve the Mission in their own way with heart.

To hear our Native American volunteer basket weavers tell their traditions or see hardworking Docents or Gardening Angels assisting a visitor is a blessing of this job. To hear the thoughtful concerns of the Mission Preservation Foundation expressed with deep regard for the site, its traditions and people, makes me feel fortunate.

I hope you will consider becoming an active volunteer and invite you to please read further in this newsletter about our upcoming Volunteer Orientation sessions and Docent Training opportunities.

I recently read a quote attributed to our country's second president, John Adams, in which he purportedly said that, “There is no democracy without service and no tradition without art.” That quote reminds me of our Mission volunteers and the artful way in which they serve this special place in the spirit of the 18th century's national and mission founding periods.

Volunteers at Mission San Juan Capistrano are the “je ne sais quoi,” or “that certain something special” that help define the 21st century Mission experience on so many levels. For that, we invite you to become a volunteer, to be a part of “something special” in order to affect something meaningful.

RECENT ART CONSERVATION

An undated carved wood statue of St. Francis of Assisi was recently conserved. The statue had been on display since the 1950s in the Lower Garden and present day picnic area. Over time the statue was exposed to the elements causing damage to its finish.

Susan Brown, an art conservator from Laguna Beach was contracted to conserve the statue. Aside from carrying out a deep cleaning, the statue was also treated with conservation grade oils to strengthen and preserve the wood. The renovation of the garden area surrounding the statue was also generously funded by Mission San Juan Capistrano docent Carole Valenick Bocchini in memory of her late husband, William R. Bocchini. Carole is a member of the Mission's Docent Guild as well as the Landmark's Club, a group of Mission supporters who commit portions of their estate toward its future support.

Before Conservation

After Conservation

To get involved with funding a project for conservation needs, join the Mission San Juan Capistrano Art Guild by contacting Development Director, Barb Beier at (949) 234-1323 or emailing bbeier@missionsjc.com. The Art Guild promotes and supports the care, conservation, acquisition, and appreciation of the Mission's arts historic collection. To get involved with the Landmark's Club, please call Barb Beier at (949) 234-1323.

Thank You TO OUR ADOPT-A-CLASS SUPPORTERS

Adopt-A-Class Scholarship Program students

This year a total of 10,854 students and their teachers had the opportunity to study California history and experience hands-on learning thanks to the generous funding provided by the Mission's Adopt-A-Class Scholarship Program.

The Adopt-A-Class Scholarship Program began in 2005 to enable low-income students to take part in the fun and learning that only a field trip to the Mission can provide. Below are a few excerpts from some of the thank you letters received from students and teachers who visited Mission San Juan Capistrano because of the program. To become involved in the Adopt-A-Class Scholarship Program, please donate online at www.missionsjc.com or contact Development Director, Barb Beier at (949) 234-1323 or bbeier@missionsjc.com.

Excerpts from Student and Teacher Letters:

"Thank you for allowing us to visit your Mission. It was a wonderful experience for my classmates and I. I had a wonderful time learning. Thank you for a great time and giving us knowledge."
A 4th grade student

"Thank you so much for your generosity. We are a Title I school and educational experiences like this are very difficult without the help of caring and supportive citizens like you. Our students haven't stopped talking about the wonderful time they had at the mission. They were able to experience the beauty of the mission in addition to deepening their appreciation of California history. I think they will carry this with them well into their education. So, thank you again!"

Spotlight on History

OLD MISSION CEMETERY CROSS

In 1924 shortly after the Serra Chapel was restored for the first time, Monsignor O'Sullivan (Mission Pastor from 1910-1933) designed and installed the cross in the Mission's cemetery to honor the Acjachemen people, the Mission's Native American community who built the Mission and who were buried there as baptized Catholics between 1781-1850. According to the Mission's Sacramental Burial Register, approximately 3,000 individuals were buried within the area located adjacent to the Serra Chapel. After 1850, burials were moved to the Mission's "new" cemetery located on Ortega Highway.

Cemetery Cross, circa 1924

Monsignor O'Sullivan designed and installed the cross in the center with the following inscription:

*"In this holy place lie the bodies of those who built the Mission
May their souls rest in peace"
Erected 1924*

By 1933, Monsignor O'Sullivan lost his long battle with tuberculosis and was buried at Calvary Cemetery in Los Angeles. However, the Mission community of San Juan Capistrano wanted to honor their priest and "Great Restorer," and pled to allow his reburial alongside the Serra Chapel in 1934, near the very cross he had erected a decade prior.

Focusing ON PRESERVATION

Acjachemen Cross and Monsignor O'Sullivan's Tomb 2018

In April of 2018, the Mission staff worked with Architectural Resources Group to assess the condition of the historic cross and Monsignor O'Sullivan's tomb.

The Mission is now working on defining the final scope of work and is developing a preservation plan to conserve both the cross and tomb in accordance with national standards for the care and treatment of historic sites. This project will require some fundraising as costs are anticipated to begin at $25,000.

To get involved and help preserve Mission San Juan Capistrano, make a gift towards preservation online today at missionsjc.com, by calling (949) 234-1300, emailing Mechelle Lawrence Adams at mlawrence-adams@missionsjc.com or returning the enclosed envelope.

BATTLE OF THE MARIACHIS 2018

The Mission celebrated its Fourteenth Annual Battle of the Mariachis Festival on May 12, 2018. The Festival featured 13 mariachi groups from three states, including California, Nevada, and Arizona. A sold-out audience of more than 3,000 experienced the exciting performances from the groups who ranged in age from elementary school to university and professional level. As the swallows flew overhead, the Mission was filled with spirit of inspiration and community.

The annual Battle of the Mariachis is made possible thanks to the generous support of the Thomas J. and Erma Jean Tracy Family Foundation.

360° World View HISTORY LECTURES

This May the Mission hosted Part I of its 360-Degree World View Toward History lecture series. The Mission cordially welcomed Drs. Rose Marie Beebe and Robert Senkewicz, esteemed Spanish Literature and History (respectively) professors, from Santa Clara University, both of who also sit on the Mission's Historical Interpretation Advisory Committee.

During the evening lecture, Professors Beebe and Senkewicz shared research findings about the life and times of Junípero Serra, the Franciscan missionary who led the establishment of Spanish colonial missions in California during his tenure from 1769-1784, and who specifically founded Mission San Juan Capistrano as the 7th of 9 missions in an eventual chain of 21 missions. Their joint program presented Saint Serra beyond the mythic and at times controversial figure he has become.

Their second lecture was held the next day. It provided information about the development of missions, presidios, and pueblos during the Spanish and Mexican Period of Early California history.

Many of the professors' books are available at the Mission Store, members receive a 10% off all year long.

Romance of the Mission 2018
BENEFIT GALA

Friday, September 14
Honoring
Madeline and James Irvine Swinden

2018 Concert Artist
Jackie Evancho

"I am so happy to be performing at the Mission – it is so beautiful and I get great inspiration from singing in such a special place!"

This highly anticipated magical event sells out each year and begins at 6:00 p.m. in the evening with an opening reception in the Mission's Front Courtyard followed by a private concert in the Ruins of the Great Stone Church, traditional bell ringing and candlelight four-course plated dinner in the Central Courtyard hosted by long-time community partner, the Ritz-Carlton, Laguna Niguel. Roger's Gardens, Corona del Mar, will generously donate their time and expertise with table décor for the event. Additional underwriters for the evening to date include Lugano Diamonds, Farmers & Merchants Trust Company, Shine Lighting, Crestavilla, and Wildflower Linen.

The Mission Preservation Foundation is thrilled to welcome Jackie Evancho as this year's concert artist. Since she first appeared on NBC's America's Got Talent at the tender age of 10, she has gained global recognition and has released a string of platinum and gold albums with sales of over 2.5 million in the US. Along the way, she has also made history – the youngest solo platinum artist ... the youngest Top 5 debut artist ever in the U.K. ... the youngest person to give solo concert at Lincoln Center ... the highest-ranking debut artist of 2010. Now 18 years old, Evancho will entertain guests with an intimate concert in the Ruins of the Great Stone Church which will include her rendition of Leon René's chart topping hit "When the Swallows Come Back to Capistrano."

For information on underwriting or reservations or to request an invitation, please contact Development Director, Barb Beier at (949) 234.1323 or bbeier@missionsjc.com.

BECOME A MISSION VOLUNTEER

There are many opportunities to become involved and support the Mission. The Mission invites all who want to volunteer to apply, in order to serve at concerts, assisting with a special event, supporting the information booth/curiosity cart, perform office work, or assemble Mission Passports. There are numerous affiliations that collaborate to ensure that California Landmark #200 remains a vibrant place of inspiration, education and preservation including:

- The Guild: Hosts various social events throughout the year. Meet new people who love the Mission and help out at events. Meets monthly.
- Gardening Angels: This group of expert garden volunteers can be found every Wednesday morning pruning, fertilizing, and planting to make the gardens look their best for visitors.
- Docents: Comprised of individuals with a strong sense of history, a passion for teaching it, and the ability to engage with others to provide field trip inspiration to thousands of fourth graders. Training sessions required.
- Special Events: Volunteers at Mission events who serve in fun ways to ensure a memorable experience.

We invite you to learn more about ways that you can volunteer. Join us at our upcoming volunteer open house on Tuesday, June 19 or Wednesday, August 29 at the Mission. For more information, contact Pat March, Volunteer Program Administrator at (949) 234-1322 or email pmarch@missionsjc.com. Visit our website at missionsjc.com/volunteer to learn more.

THE JEWEL CLUB

Mission San Juan Capistrano is proud to report a new partnership with area hotels – our inaugural complimentary concierge program – The Jewel Club.

After hosting a well-received concierge event in late January 2018, this new program was created to better acquaint Southern California concierges and hospitality professionals in Orange County with Mission San Juan Capistrano as a destination for visitors. Through these efforts, we hope to experience even more visitor attendance and support for the Mission's preservation.

We welcome the following Orange County hotels and visitor services to The 2018 Jewel Club:

If you are a hospitality professional and would like to join The Jewel Club or would like to receive further information, please contact Madeline Roth, Development and Community Relations Coordinator, at (949) 234 – 1349 or mroth@missionsjc.com.
